One day I was stuck in a snow globe. I felt a bit sad and bored. But then, I remembered what my Mom told me to do when I am sad and worried.

She said: "When you're sad or worried, you need to take 3 deep breaths so you can calm down. When you are calmed, you think of what you should do. Last, you should do what you thought of."

So, I took 3 deep breaths, I thought of escape ideas, and I was ready to try my ideas! The first idea was to call for help. I called out and said: "help! help! some one help me!" But no one heard me.

The next idea was to search for a key from inside to open the snow globe. I searched and searched and searched and searched but I couldn't find one.

I tried to break the snow globe, but I couldn't. Then I said to my self that I need to be clever. I looked around to see if I can use something to break the snow globe. I saw the snowman holding a hammer. I quickly took the hammer from the snowman's hand and broke the snow globe. I was happy and proud of myself that I got out!

The End
